Animation Brewery Productions is proud to announce the debut of GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT!, a series of animated political satires featuring the talents of the legendary comedy duo Double Exposure. These hilarious animated shorts will poke fun at current events with the celebrated wit of Double Exposure's Bob Robertson and Linda Cullen.

The first episode, which takes aim at the federal election's upcoming Leaders' Debate, debuts today online at www.GrossNationalProduct.ca. Episodes will also be posted on www.AnimationBrewery.com.

Double Exposure Brings Two Decades of Comedy Experience

Multi-talented comedians Bob Robertson and Linda Cullen began working together as Double Exposure on CBC Radio 21 years ago, then toured their shows across the country throughout the 1990s, and eventually found a home on television on both CBC TV and CTV. The award-winning Vancouver duo will write the scripts and perform the voices for GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT!.

A Unique Animated Brew

Vancouver's Animation Brewery Productions was formed in 2005 by animators Glen Schachowskoj and Stu Wenschlag, who each brought a wealth of creative and managerial expertise to the company. The Animation Brewery creates, develops and produces character-driven animated content for a range of entertainment channels.

Glen Schachowskoj trained at Sheridan College, graduating in 1991, and then worked as an animator for a variety of studios in Vancouver and across Canada. He partnered at a successful company in Halifax in the late 1990s before returning to Vancouver.

Stu Wenschlag trained in Fine Arts at the Emily Carr College of Art & Design. After working in several Vancouver studios, he took on Overseas Animation Supervisor positions in Korea, Hong Kong and China.
